II. COURSE DESCRIPTION

At La Cañada High School, our mission is to offer “programs that will enable our students to become successful leaders in society” while providing for “personal growth and academic excellence.”

To that end, the Theatre Department is proud to offer the most comprehensive theatrical training program available to secondary students. In the tradition of Julliard and Carnegie Mellon, we provide a rigorous conservatory curriculum set in a rotational schedule that allows the students to fully explore the different genres of theatre. Moreover, the students produce a professional season of theatre as a way of bringing their conservatory studies to life.

Students in Repertory Theatre will work on two productions this year: A Christmas Carol by Charles Dickens and Dracula by Bram Stoker. Students not actively rehearsing their scene on any given day will be assigned to work on their Theatre Portfolio – a collection of artifacts documenting the individual student’s theatre work. These artifacts will include text analysis, character biographies, methodology notation, rubrics, monologues, scenes and scripts.

A. COURSE CONTENT

Repertory Theatre will focus on training four interdisciplinary areas: acting, movement, voice/speech and theatre history/theory.

1. Acting:

In this class, students are given an opportunity to perform in two repertory shows - A Christmas Carol and Dracula. Additionally, students are given a concrete technique for approaching beginning classical theatre - specifically of the Victorian and Edwardian age. Students are taught how to identify the defining characteristics of each period and use them in creating a character. Specific attention is placed on maintaining organic honesty within the work while adopting the necessary mannerisms of the style.

2. Movement:

Students will focus their movement training on developing a reliable technique for style work as it applies to classical text. Students will study reverences, standing, sitting, social norms and mannerisms (including fan language) for the Ancient Greek, Gothic, Elizabethan, Restoration, Georgian, Victorian and Edwardian periods.

3. Voice and Speech:

This unit allows the students to vocally explore dialect and accent work using an amalgamation of ear training and IPA notation. Students are given a concrete set of tactics for marking vowel substitutions in text while simultaneously learning how to accurately mimic vocal accents and regionalisms using auditory strategies.

4. History and Theory:

This unit entails a detailed examination of the historical origins of theatre, the development of genres within the discipline, significant artists who have contributed to the growth of theatre and current trends in contemporary theatre. Specific attention was paid to the following periods: Greek and Roman theatre, Medieval Theatre and the Mystery Cycles, Elizabethan theatre, Restoration theatre, Realism/Naturalism and Modernism.

B. COURSE ALIGNMENT

The curriculum for each year of theatre has been horizontally and vertically integrated to ensure proper educational development and is fully aligned with the Content Standards for Drama as put forth by the California State Board of Education and the Common Core State Standards. A downloadable PDF outlining full alignment is available on the department website - visit www.lacanadaplayhouse.org for detailed information.

III. CITIZENSHIP AND BEHAVIOR EXPECTATIONS:

A. CITIZENSHIP EXPECTATIONS

At La Cañada High School, we endorse and support the idea of Developmental Assets that when present, help young people grow up healthy, principled and caring. In the Theatre Department, we have integrated the Developmental Assets (available on the school website) into our curricular framework as a way of preparing students to thrive in life and learning.

Additionally, those who fail to study their craft seriously and with intention come to the field under-prepared and ill-informed. The student is expected to apply the same work ethic demanded in their core classes. This is your chance to learn, to grow.

- Come to every class prepared, having read the material and finished the work.
- Commit yourself to “being present” from the first moment you enter the room. Full concentration and commitment is expected at all times.
- Focus on your work and the work of others; always watch, observe, and pay close attention – this is how you learn. Please no side conversations.
- Work for yourself and your fellow students. Your mental and physical presence is necessary for this class to be successful.
- Students cannot “fail” but they can “fail to try”.

- Please raise your hand if you have a question.
- Don't despair. Work.

B. BEHAVIOR EXPECTATIONS

Students in the Theatre Department are asked to adhere to the following behavior expectations.

1. Theatre Dress Code:
 - a. Students must be able to tuck in their shirts if needed.
 - b. Shorts should be worn under skirts during movement class and rehearsal skirts (ankle-length skirts) are highly recommended for acting class.
 - c. Close-toed shoes MUST be available to wear during acting and movement class – flipflops are not acceptable and can create a serious “tripping” hazard.
 - d. Please remove any jewelry prior to beginning class and have hair pulled back away from the face.
 - e. Boys are expected to have black shoes, black socks, a pair of black dress slacks and a white, button-down, collared dress shirt for performances.
 - f. Girls are expected to have one pair of black tights for performances (to be worn under period costumes).
 - g. Additionally, students are expected to adhere to the published Dress Code guidelines as set forth in the Student Handbook.

2. Academic Honesty:
 - a. You are expected to demonstrate honesty and integrity while in attendance at LCHS. There is no distinction between giving or receiving unauthorized help; one who helps another to cheat is as guilty as one who benefits from cheating. All work submitted by students should be a true reflection of their effort and ability. You are expected to do your own work.
 - b. Students who cheat will receive a zero on the assignment and a “U” citizenship grade for the quarter. Consequences of violations will be based on the Academic Honesty Policy.

3. Classroom Rules: Please see attached “Student and Parent Agreement”.

3. Teacher Contact with the Counselor
4. Referral of the Student to the Assistant Principal
